An Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU) may be constructed within the home or as an attached addition to the home. The unit will be considered a separate dwelling unit where a bedroom and separate kitchen are provided. Additionally, the total number of building permits issued for ADUs shall not exceed 0.4% of the total of single family detached homes in the County based on assessment records.

To make an existing accessory dwelling unit legal and conforming with New Castle County Code, an Accessory Dwelling Unit Building Permit must be issued and a certificate of occupancy granted for the additional dwelling unit. All permit requirements listed below may be required for this process and the dwelling unit must be in conformance with New Castle County Code Chapter 6 and New Castle County Code Chapter 12 at time of permit issuance.

Please be aware of the following requirements concerning applications for Accessory Dwelling Unit Permits as defined in New Castle County Code Chapter 40 (UDC) Section 03.410(H):

- Only one (1) accessory dwelling unit is permitted per single-family residential detached lot.
- Only one (1) home occupation is permitted per residential lot.
- Once an accessory dwelling unit is established, the primary structure shall not be used for apartment conversion and only one (1) of the dwelling units may be rented.
- The property owner must occupy and reside in either the principal dwelling unit or the ADU as his or her principal legal residence.
- One (1) additional off-street parking space is required for the ADU, in addition to the number of spaces required for the existing single-family detached dwelling.
- On any lot greater than two (2) acres, one (1) freestanding accessory structure may be constructed or used as an accessory dwelling unit. The free standing dwelling unit may be located in any yard, provided that it meets the same front, street, side and rear yard setbacks as required for the principal dwelling.
